HISTORICAL SOCIETY PRESENTS EXHIBIT

An exhibit entitled "The Family Farm" opened on Wednesday, Feb. 19, as part of the Heritage Day activities of the Bethel Historical Society in the lobby of the Bethel Savings Bank. The exhibit is intended to convey to the visitor an impression through photography, artifacts, newspaper excerpts, a model and interpretive brochures an understanding of Bethel's farm family life before industrialization, mechanization and the rise of corporate agriculture infused this basic social and economic unit of American history with the contrasting values of an urban nation.

For much of Bethel's history, farming was the primary occupation of most inhabitants. Their industry, frugality, independence, ingenuity and full sense of identity are recalled by an exposure to the age. Not to be forgotten however is the isolation, the loneliness, the harshness of the Maine winters, the prevalence of devastating epidemics and the often grim prospects of securing a livelihood from rocky hillsides. But there were bright times as well. Socials and fairs, huskings, and quiltings, plus genuine good neighborliness immeasurably enriched life during these years.

Be certain to visit this display made possible as part of the History Outreach Project by a grant from the Maine League of Historical Societies and Museums, members of the Bethel Historical Society and friends.

LEAD SCREENING CLINIC AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH TUESDAY, FEB. 25

This year 400,000 children in the U. S. will undergo treatment for some degree of lead poisoning. Predictions: 200 will die, 800 will be permanently impaired, and 32,000 will suffer moderate to severe brain damage. (Statistics from U. S. Surgeon General) The results of lead poisoning are indeed terrifying, but the problem is almost entirely avoidable.

To aid in early detection and eradication, a FREE screening clinic will be held here in Bethel on Tuesday, Feb. 25, at the Congregational Church from 1 to 4 p. m. The simple test requires a drop or two of blood from your child's finger. Every child from age one to six should be tested. However, since about 90% of the poisonings come from the ingestion of lead-

S. A. D. 44 DIRECTORS

HEAR/DISCUSS MORE BUDGET REDUCING OPTIONS MONDAY

At their regular meeting on Monday evening of this week at Telstar Regional High School, the S. A. D. 44 board of directors continued discussion on the fiscal year 1976 budget.

It was the recommendation of Supt. Basil E. Kinney, that the date of the annual district budget meeting not be delayed beyond March 19.

There were recommendations on possible budget cuts from a Budget Task Force created by the Educational Development Committee. The EDC is a committee of teachers, administrators, board members and lay-people created by provisions of the agreement between the Telstar Educators Association and the S. A. D. 44 board of directors.

The recommendation of the Budget Task Force would make a 50% reduction in funds available for teaching supplies; library and audio-visual supplies; reduce by one-half, stipends for extra curricular activities, and related items; reduce department head stipends by 50%; eliminate plans for a vehicle maintenance garage; eliminate the assistant principal, a guidance position, and a physical education position at Telstar; put grounds, transportation and buildings personnel having supervisory duties, on salary versus hourly wage; have a 25 cent (per week) student towel fee at Telstar; reduce overtime for custodial personnel; reduce number of telephones at Telstar; and cut the maintenance of plant figures by 50%.

It was the evident opinion of the board that cuts recommended in the teaching supplies area was too great as they tentatively approved a cut of 20%, a potential saving of some $20,000.

Also tentatively approved by the board was a reduction in stipends by 50% for extra-curricular activities, and related items that potentially would save some $17,330.

A proposal to eliminate plans for a vehicle maintenance garage failed to receive board approval.

A motion to delete budget proposals relating to the entire athletic program failed to received a second.

A proposal to eliminate the following coaches positions, stipends and related expense: one assistant football, cross country, freshman basketball, track, assistant track, assistant baseball, track (girls), and cheerleading was not approved.

The board voted to eliminate one

No one was at home at the time of the blaze and firemen were able to save only a few possessions from the smoke filled trailer which received damage estimated at $9,000.

According to fire department officials, the fire originated in the vicinity of the furnace and was presumed to be due to a faulty electrical system. The home and furnishings were considered to be nearly a total loss.

The warrant for the Annual Town Meeting, which will be held at the Bear River Grange Hall, March 3, at 7 p. m., contains 48 articles, most of them routine. A new law requires that all towns have Tax Maps by 1977. The Selectmen recommend that the Tree Growth Tax Refund money be used for this purpose. Another article is to see if the Town will vote to purchase a new truck for the Highway Department. The present truck has been giving considerable trouble in the past year. At the present time, the power steering is gone, and to date, we have been unable to get parts to fix it. The possibility of purchasing a surplus Army truck has been discussed. By special request an article has been inserted in the warrant to see if the Town will vote to reconstruct the lower end of the Branch Road. Other articles are to see if the Town will vote to join the Federal Flood Insurance Program, establish a conservation commission, to raise money for ambulance service, and for the Bethel Medical Center. Article 35 is to see if the Town will authorize the Maine Housing Authority to plan, develop, finance and assist in the development of decent, safe housing for low income families.

The annual town report has been delivered. The report of the Tax Collector shows $1,537.14 in uncollected 1974 taxes, from a commitment of $39,728.60. Of this amount, $1,339.20 is non resident, and $137.94 resident. Prior year's taxes uncollected total $13.04, with $217.36 due on tax liens.

Total receipts for the year, including the Jan. 1, 1974 cash balance of $21,684.03, were $82,887.72. Total Selectmen's warrants were $61,128.30 ($629.72 of this amount was taken from special funds) leaving a year end balance of $22,386.14. Accounts receivable include $2,716.00 in Federal Flood Relief Funds. Unexpended balances in all accounts total $33,806.67, with no overdrafts.

The Puzzle Mountain Associates are considering developing the former Chase Hill Pasture. Since this property has been placed under the Tree Growth Law, there will be a penalty to the owners, under State Law, if this land is used for other than lumbering operations.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Eames, Cape Elizabeth, spent the long week end at their place on the Branch.

Reginald Bacheider and daughter, Heidi, visited his parents in Stratton, Sunday. His mother was recently discharged from a hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kingman, Warren, N. J., visited Mrs. Mary Tripp during the week end.

Mrs. Katherine Wight, Errol, one above one day but down to 15 below at night. The sun comes up 7:30 to 4 p. m. when the temperature drops again. The card was an aerial picture of the University of Alaska.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Fleming were in Portland one day last week on a bird expedition.

Mrs. Carol Stowell is confined to her bed most of the time. It's a long time to be confined. Let's remember her with some cards, Willing Workers.

"The wilderness calls—and in the snow are tracks that lead us on—the winds blow freshness to our lives and stars seem close enough to touch...."—Gwen Frostic.

The thermometer fell to minus 16 degrees last night. I saw from my windows this morning a valley of beauty. Wherever I looked there was a sparkle of diamonds. Tiny crystals, like ghosts, were stealthily dropping and withdrawing into the woods.

The needles of the pines, how they shone in the sun! Every tree was dressed in the most delicate frost work, reflecting only light. The small ones by my driveway were the most conspicuous.

The air was as pure as glass while the landscape looked singularly clean.

So many times I have walked among these trees that I could hear again the voice of these woods. Going up the Spring Road I used to listen to the sharp dry rustle of the withered oak leaves that held on. Some times I was reminded of the roar of the sea, for the billows of air that broke on the forest as the surf breaks on the sand. How wonderful is sound; murmurs in the background; the forest winds, water falls, sea surf, others; earth's voice.

Across the Pond I walk among the yellow birches of the swamp, with occasionally a dead one, leaning, covered with rounded fungi ears; resembling shelves. The swamp was always my winter temple and one day I shall walk there again. There the silence was audible. There I listened to the unspeakable. I envision all the wonders hidden from sight and listened to the symphonies that silence brings.

As I started this my gray squirrels, four in number, plus my three reds, were outside occasionally coming to the window sill where their bright eyes followed my every move, unafraid. My "Dee-dee" birds, those midgests of feathers and warm flesh are ever busy finding their sustenance in this snowy world.

Now the sun sets with a long afterglow of light. Every day a new picture is painted, framed, then the curtain falls.

A single star looks down. I am thankful I'm home.

Club Eight met with Etta Morris on Wednesday. The gift they brought to me after the meeting, a lovely blue sweater, was a nice surprise.

PHYSICIAN'S ASSISTANT VISITS BETHEL FEB. 11

Robert A. Girard, of Putnam, Conn., physician's assistant, who will be working in Bethel this spring with Dr. Gregory Sobczak, Johnstown, Penn., was in Bethel recently acquainting himself with the area. He and his wife visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Laban on Feb. 11 and also attended the Board Meeting of the Bethel Area Health and Service Council.

Girard and his wife and family moved to Milton Plantation in early January so he could begin orienting at Rumford Community Hospital in preparation for his Bethel assignment.

Both Girard and Dr. Sobczak are coming to Bethel as a result of the Bethel Health Council's search for another physician to serve the medical needs of the people of Bethel and area towns.

Temporary office quarters are being renovated in the basement of the Gould Academy Infirmary. Girard hopes to be in Bethel by mid-April for three days a week to help prepare the quarters for the arrival of Dr. Sobczak in early May. Until Dr. Sobczak's arrival, Girard will be working under the direction of a Rumford physician, Dr. James Edmond.

Girard was previously employed for two years as physician's assistant to Dr. Walter R. Peterlin, Springvale, Maine.

Girard is qualified to take complete medical histories and to give complete physical examinations. He is also able to apply and remove casts, sutures, do well-baby checks, routine prenatal checks, laboratory procedures, emergency medicine and other functions. The results of his findings will be checked by Dr. Sobczak for diagnosis, prognosis and treatment.

His additional duties will include routine nursing home and house calls. Any necessary treatment, however, will be ordered by Dr. Sobczak.

In 1972, Girard graduated from the MEDEX Physician's Assistant Program coordinated in the New England area by Dartmouth Medical School. He was one of 25 students chosen from 2,000 applicants for training as a MEDEX in 1971.

Girard served for 11 years as a Coast Guard medic. He is now a chief hospital corpsman in the Coast Guard Reserve.

Girard successfully passed the National Board of Medical Examiners' Certifying Examination for Physician's Assistants.

Girard is married to the former Virginia Chapman of Center Line, Mich., who is a former home economist. They have twin daughters, age four, a daughter, age one, and a son, age six.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I understand there have been complaints because my driveway has been plowed this winter. I'd like it understood that the town did not plow it. I hired it done.

I also would like it understood that I was not responsible for the article in the warrant in regard to not plowing driveways.

I feel the town should continue to plow driveways as long it can be done with our own equipment.

Sincerely,
Roger E. Hanscom

18 February

Dear Editor:

On March 3 the citizens of Bethel will be casting their ballots for candidates vying for positions on the board of selectmen/assessors and the MSAD #44 board of directors. I am a candidate for a seat on the board of directors.

I am running for one reason—I care what happens to education in general, and specifically in this community. I think MSAD #44 faces a number of problems. None of them are insurmountable, but can and must be solved in the spirit of cooperation. When people start working together they are on the road to progress. And that is what it's really all about—working together for a better understanding, to solve any problems, and to gain the benefits of cooperation.

I encourage everyone to vote in the annual elections on March 3—and welcome your vote. I think I can help and I would like the chance to try.

Seames, zoning and planning board; Herbert Dunham, Norman Millett, selectmen; John Haines, who is trying for the position of selectman, and other interested citizens. Two of our local men, Jack Cross and Butch Fuller, have been taking advantage of "Gliders of Mt. Abram", a new school of hang gliding, taught by Joe Robiller of Bethel. It may not be too nice to fool Mother Nature, but these guys sure have been trying; and under Joe's excellent instruction have been off the ground several times.

It's almost as much of a thrill for the spectators as it is for the fledgling flyers for whenever the man are fluttering around during a lesson, a crowd of enthusiastic supporters gathers to watch. Hang gliding is a fascinating new sport for all. Ask Butch or Jack about their experiences. They'll tell you they can feel the feathers growing already.

On the Job With Emily

Week of Feb. 3-7

Contrary to what may have been the stereotypical legislator in the minds of many, today's representatives, including District 63's Emily Saunders are not found with feet on desks, cigars in mouths. In fact, Emily has found that desks are not for sitting at, but are to be piled with bills to be read and sorted, and myriad items to be taken care of. The actually daily session of the House at this point is very brief, allowing members to use their time to attend hearings and do research. Emily's two committees have met in the past week—the Public Utilities to act on some emergency measures for specific problems in other districts, and the Human Resources to have a work session on the child abuse bill, forming subcommittees to study existing statutes and gather more witnesses.

The obvious highlight of this past week and the topic that will be in the forefront for weeks to come is the new Maine budget delivered to the Joint Convention of the House and Senate on Feb. 6 by Governor Longley. The budget is a 3-volume, 1600 page document, a budget of just over $700 million, a figure that lies about midway between the previous actual budget expenditure of $586 million and the budget request of $925 million. It will take some time for the budget to be analyzed to determine the effect on state services.

Emily has been informed of a state survey which is currently in progress regarding the construction of low income federally funded housing units in Bethel. Apparently funds are available for such projects in qualified communities, which, through action at town meetings, display interest in having such units.

Week of Feb. 11

The two most significant events of this Legislative week occurred during the second and third days. On Wednesday morning House members engaged in lengthy debate over the future of a bill to reduce the size of the House of Representatives from its present 151 to 99 members. Proponents of the bill generally argued that it would result in increased efficiency, and possible less cost. Opponents felt that the resulting increase in the size of House districts would lessen the opportunity for 1-to-1 contact with constituents, and that any cost savings would be absorbed by a necessary increase in Legislative staff to handle the increased workload. Debate lasted for well over an hour before the deciding vote to defeat the bill. Emily voted with the majority in defeating the reduction in House size. She based her decision on the fact that the present system provides for personal contact between legislators and constituents. "It is grass-roots. It is as close as you can get to the people—if you want to be there."

On Thursday morning, Governor Longley presented his legislative address, which was covered in the daily press, along with reaction to his ideas on the part of the legislators. Now comes the time for study and compromise. Bills printed this past week include proposals to amend the lead poison act, to place inheritance tax on life insurance proceeds, to allow state employees to receive night pay differential for working "swing" or all-shift shifts; for an appropriation to the Department of Health and Welfare to conduct emergency medical training for ambulance and rescue personnel; and to require that the Governor be elected by a majority vote.

Bills passed by the Legislature include special license plates for the handicapped, collective bargaining rights extended to Maine Turnpike Authority employees, elimination of the waiting period under the Employment Security Act, and the designation of January 15 each year as a commemoration

DISCUSS LEGISLATION — State Representative Emily Saunders (D-

Representative Emily Saunders (D-Bethel) discusses pending legislation to eliminate architectural barriers which discriminate against handicapped people, with House Chairman Gerald Talbot (right) (D-Portland) of the Human Resources Committee and with State Representative Edward C. Kelleher (D-Bangor). Kelleher serves as House Chairman of the Joint Standing Committee on Public Utilities on which Representative Saunders also serves.

BUILDERS OF

MEMORIES OF MERTON ("ONION") BROWN

No one could say for a certainty how he acquired the nickname of "Onion". Probably the late Frank R. Bartlett might have been able to solve the mystery for the Brown children, near neighbors spent much time in "Frankie's" shop watching him busy at work and listening to his thrilling tall tales.

"Onion's" mother died when he was very young, the youngest of five children. He was about fifteen when his father's death occurred. His sister, the late Beryl Morgan, solicitously looked after her orphaned brother but unfortunately her life was rather short, so he was "on his own" from that time on.

When my brother and I left Bethel in the 50's, "Onion" was a friendly, accommodating taxi driver. Like all the Browns of that family, "Onion" had a keen sense of humor.

It seems ironic that a person who had suffered many blows of fate should have had his life terminated in such a tragic manner.

We extend our sincere sympathy to his widow and children and the one brother who is left. G. S.

HOWARD - INMAN

Miss Teresa Inman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Inman, Albany, became the bride of Franklin Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Seames, Bryant Pond, at a candlelight ceremony January 4, at the West Parish Congregational Church, Bethel. The 7 p. m. double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas Caton.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Howard

The bride who was escorted to the altar by her father, wore a floor length chiffon over satin gown. The bodice was lace over satin and the sleeves were chiffon with lace cuffs. Her veil was floor length bridal illusion and fell from a Juliet cap of satin and lace. She carried a winter bouquet of red roses, white mums, holly and fir.

The attendants wore colonial style, full length dresses of velvet. Each carried a single, long stemmed, white football mum. All the attendants' dresses and the bridal gown were made by the bride.

The maid of honor, in green velvet, was Terry Berryment, Bryant Pond. The bridesmaids were Miss Renita Inman, in blue velvet, sister of the bride, and Miss Cathy Henry, in red velvet, a classmate.

Dee-dee Morrill, in brown velvet, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. She carried a basket of white mums, holly and fir.

Steve Carter, friend of the groom, was best man. Alan

EARLY REAL ESTATE'S GRAND OPENING IS SUCCESS

Early Real Estate held its grand opening on Sunday, Feb. 16, in their newly redecorated offices in the former quarters of the Bethel Savings Bank.

Mrs. Patricia Early, Robert Early, Mandy Emens, and Jeff Prest hosted the event and Mrs. Juanita Allen and Mrs. Romaine Bouchard served refreshments to a curious and enthusiastic crowd of about 280. In addition, Ad Infinitum, local advertiser, initiated a "name-the-rooster" contest (for details contact Mandy Emens at the Early Offices) and all were encouraged to try their imaginations.

Twenty-six bouquets and assorted gifts were received by Mrs. Early as well as much good cheer and hopes of success in the future.

The 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. celebration left all pleasantly and happily exhausted.

Mrs. Early commented that, "It was all more than I could possibly have hoped for..." and that she wished to express her feelings of gratitude to all for making it such a marvelous success.

Seames, brother of the groom, and Timothy Rosenberg, classmate of the groom, served as ushers. David Bennett, friend of the bride and groom, was the ring bearer.

Mother of the bride wore a rust colored, floor length dress with a yellow rose corsage. Mother of the groom wore a pink, floor length dress with a pink and white rose corsage. The traditional wedding music was played by Miss Mary Valentine.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the American Legion Hall, Bethel. Miss Brenda Miele, aunt of the groom, was in charge of the guest book. Ms. Betsy Stowell and Miss Ellen Clark had charge of the gift table. Mrs. Edward Pevear cut the wedding cake after the bride and groom cut the first piece. The four tier, blue and white cake was made by Miss Ruthie Bumpus, Albany. Those serving refreshments were Mrs. Janice Morrill and Miss Laura Inman, aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Joan Marr and Mrs. Kathy Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Inman, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, served the punch.
